Titusville Police Athletic League Plans Annual Shop with a Cop

November 1, 2009 – The Titusville Police Athletic League is planning the Annual “Shop with a Cop” event.

Each year just before Christmas 100 boys and girls are taken on a free shopping spree at Wal-Mart in Titusville. Money for the program is provided by funds raised by Earl and Janet Miller. The Millers raise money through the Anthony “Lee” Miller Golf Tournament, which they coordinate in memory of their son, who was an officer with the Titusville Police Department until his death in 1997. Wal-Mart contributes additional funds and makes sure that Santa is there to greet the children. McDonalds provides free breakfast. Over 100 police officers and volunteers board busses provided by Kennedy Space Center and travel to Wal-Mart with a Police Escort.

Applications will be available on November 9 and registration runs through November 19 or when 100 children are registered. Applications can be picked up at the Titusville Police Athletic League located at 835 Sycamore St, Titusville or online at www.titusvillepal.org.

If you would like to volunteer to help a child shop, please call 321-268-8771 for information on how to become a volunteer.
